

Clark Chuka

Clark has been entertaining and hosting since 1987. Through the many years and thousands of performances, he has developed an incredible expertise in special event music and event dynamics. This experience allows him to quickly determine what to say, what to play and how to custom cater his performance to fit any situation and clientele.

"The key to making any event spectacular, is reading the crowd. Every event is unique. My strength is playing the right music and saying the right thing at the right time. Anyone can play music and most entertainers can speak comfortably in front of a crowd, but tastefully putting the best music, the perfect announcements and the best "flow" of the event together so that everyone has a great time, takes special skill and experience."

Whether you need a Master of Ceremony for your next corporate meeting, a "Front Man" Host for your next special event, an announcer / musical arranger for an award show, a specialty night club DJ, a Karaoke Host or an intimate Wedding DJ, rest assured, your guests will be delighted.
