

Lou Santini

Lou has more than 11 years of experience performing in radio, television, as a stand-up comic, an MC, and as an outstanding Disc Jockey. Lou's roots are in Ohio, where he had a consistently high-rated morning radio show on Cleveland's WMMS-FM, and also hosted a local television show, "Northcoast Rocks!". In 1993 Lou started his own DJ service in Akron, Ohio and successfully ran that company until he decided to make his move to the Southern California area in 1997.

"As a host, I keep things well organized... and let people enjoy themselves! When it comes to performing at an event, I go with three major things, the wishes of the client, what works musically for the event I'm at, and playing on-site requests from the guests. It's a blend of professionalism and fun that makes for a worry-free time!"

Here are some of the events and organizations that Lou has performed for:

WZIP FM

WTIG AM

WRQK FM

WAI TV

WAOH TV

Gateway Sports Club

Cleveland Cavaliers Basketball

Budweiser Winter Beach Blues Bash

The Disneyland Hotel

Special Olympics

Oracle

Deloitte Touche

Southern California Gas Co.

John Carroll University

Blossom Music Center

Miss Hawaiian Tropic Beauty Contest

Lou has a knack for "reading" crowds and a knowledge of how to "open up" an audience. He has developed a well-rounded background through running his own DJ services in Ohio, by conducting hundreds of musical guest interviews, doing television shows and stand-up comedy, as well as serving as MC for events with attendance up to 18,000. Lou Santini has what it takes to make your party a success.
